

MILLO NEWS

(BY JOHN GLAMBECK)
I understand that my new letter to the Call has brought forth severe criticism from some of the Queenstown citizens. They state that this letter was headed Milo and Queenstown News not a single name appeared in it from Queenstown. Now in order to square myself I will state that I did not write the heading, you must put the blame on the editor. Second as I have not visited Queenstown since last spring (which is no doubt my loss) I could not truthfully say anything about it. But I assure the Queenstowners that I bear no ill will to their district. I am not one of those narrow provincialists who can see no good in anything but their own little town. For 15 years more or less I sent the news to the Call under the heading of Queenstown news. I always liked the name. But when the railway came through I made Milo just one mile nearer my farm and as most hunters do follow the line of least resistance I got in mail and one of my trading at Milo. It being the nearest. However as I have heard so many glorious reports about the growth of Queenstown lately I am going to take a day off very soon and see for myself and if I find anything, even there worth writing about it shall be written.

Frank Harvey, who has been a resident of this district since the early days and who last year was employed as helper at the Wheat Pool elevator at Milo, has been appointed to take charge of the Pool elevator at Vauxhall, Aug. 4th. We wish him good luck.

Rev. Haskins has been put in charge of the Union Church at Milo.

The C. G. T. girls, under the charge of Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Haskins, have been picking up the Row River, near Three Runs place during the past week.

Wm. Malet, from the Queenstown U. P. A. local and J. Glambek from the Milo local and Mrs. Glambek from the Milo U. P. W. A. went to Strathmore last week as delegates to the Row River political convention.

The grain throughout the whole district is a joy to look at, and if nothing happens it will between now and harvest it will surely be a bumper crop.

Judging six weeks or so from the time the first wheat headed and harvest should start around August 20.

A graving bee, to put gravel on the road leading to Milo from the west across the lake bottom and foot of Shire Hill, took place last week.

The Burks, Manner and other families have been picnicking at Banff for the past two weeks.

During the Calgary Stampede Milo lost most of its population for a few days, now the Chouteau people will have the first week in August, so there is no lack of opportunity for us farmers to spend our money.

Mr. Winkler and wife are touring the west, western United States and are in Oregon when last heard from.

Very person, even among those engaged in the fight, realize the enormous cost of the war. It is estimated that the loss and money expended for this purpose in the United States represents a loss of two billion dollars a year. In spite of this mighty effort, insects and plant diseases destroy between 10 and 15 per cent of all food raised. This situation also confronts Canada and South America and to a large extent the entire world.

To keep losses from planting an electric light on her property a woman sat in the hole they dug in the pool completed her work.

PROVINCIAL NEWS

(Edited by Publicity Commissioner, Government of Alberta)

Among the exhibits which attracted a great many visitors at the Edmonton Exhibition were those depicting the services of the Provincial Government. The child welfare clinic proved to be as popular as ever and many children were examined by the nurses in charge. Holmes and Pollock-Newell, all of whom gave their services free of charge. One of the outstanding aspects of the exhibit was the display of the Provincial Training School at Deer. This display, the best of a kind ever shown by these institutions, attracted very generous praise from those who viewed it. Practically all the articles shown were sold and orders which were taken for it will require many more than 100,000.

The appointment of Alex. Ross former Minister of Public Works to the Alberta Government, to the position of chairman of the workmen's compensation board succeeding John T. Hyattling who recently resigned. A report of ill health has been announced by Premier Bowden. It is felt that Mr. Ross' administrative experience and familiarity with workmen's compensation legislation will particularly qualify him for the duties of the new position which he will assume on Monday.

The first report of winter was harvesting this season comes from Okla. near Lethbridge, where on July 27, 27, 5th winds started cutting on the farm of John Ross. The crop promises a heavy yield, although reports indicate that the dry weather during the month of May in some southern sections will be reflected in a slightly decreased yield of winter wheat as compared with last year's crop. Spring wheat cutting is expected to start in about three weeks as early fields are beginning to open. The prospect for a highly satisfactory yield of this crop is very promising.

Exhibits of agricultural products and natural resources from Alberta will again be shown this season at a number of the larger fairs throughout the central states by the publicity campaign of the Department of Agriculture. Reports from Canadian Government agents indicate that a great deal of interest in Alberta has been shown by farmers throughout the territory visited in this last year and that the invitation to the province has been materially assisted by the favorable impression created by the people exhibiting.

Following the example of 18 B.C. the Prince Rupert, where wheat, barley and rye have been planted, a diver is marked through the High River Wheat Pool, Lord Rodney who is a large acreage near Fort Saskatchewan, has recently signed a contract for the purchase of 1000 acres of land near Fort Saskatchewan or other British peer who is a member of the Alberta Wheat Pool is the Duke of Richmond, whose seven thousand-acre farm at Brooks has been under contract for a number of years.

Sales of farm land in Alberta by the "Bull" department of the Canadian Pacific Railway during the first six months of 1926 show a remarkable increase in figures for the corresponding period of last year. Total sales in the three prairie provinces for the six months period are given as follows: 1927, 105,383 acres; 1928, 358,983 acres. Of the latter amount 115,000 acres in Alberta, 115,000 acres in Saskatchewan and 21,983 acres in Manitoba. Much of the Alberta land included in the above amount lies in the territory northwest of Lethbridge and in the irrigated.

A Severe Hail Storm

Gleichen district has had quite a number of storms this season but the worst was experienced Monday afternoon. About 3 o'clock a black cloud was observed coming from the direction of Carleton Place. It passed along the railway line from Carleton Place to the Blackfoot Reserve, and came within two miles south of Gleichen, practically clearing out 2500 acres of Indian grain. It then struck further south, broke off 28 telephone poles, and near Shallock cleared out 1000 acres, and damaged other farm property in the vicinity. Continuing east, partially damaged the Greater Production farms to the extent of about 10,000 acres, and reached as far north as Chazy while reports from Basano state considerable damage was done in that vicinity. At Gleichen the roar of the hail, two miles distant could be heard quite distinctly before the storm struck here, only a little hail striking here with no damage, but the rain was very heavy.

G. T. Jones driving in from Arrowood had a thrilling experience. When the storm struck him about three miles south of Gleichen, he turned his new big Studebaker back to it and remained until it passed. He said the hail was easily as large as a hen's egg and when they hit the ground bounced up as high as the tops of the trees. The carling around lights was badly dented and Mr. Jones says there would have been no chance of a man surviving had he been in the open.

EASIER NATURALISATION

It should be made as easy as possible for newcomers to Canada to become Canadian citizens. The fact that people of other races than the British are coming to our country in large numbers should give us no pride and pleasure. It means that they believe in the future of Canada and come here to grow up with it country. That is a compliment to us and to those who have gone before us, the pioneers of Canada.
These new Canadians not only come here to earn a living and amass a competency; they come also to share our burden of carrying out a new country and building a nation within the Empire. Therein are the reasons why pride and pleasure should animate us all.

With a territory larger in area than the United States, with the most productive wheat-lands in the world and a soil everywhere prolific, mineral wealth the amount of which can hardly be over-estimated, and riches in itself that are incalculable, we need men to till with us and, by their labor add to the common wealth and prosperity of all. Nine millions of people cannot satisfactorily or speedily "occupy the land." We need more, and some day we shall have them. The more the better. There is room for all and opportunity for everybody. To restrict the inflow of new citizens, and to make it hard for them to become assimilated and made good Canadians, would not be pragmatism; it would be political folly.

There is one lesson we in Canada might learn from our neighbors in the South. They teach their newcomers a robust Americanism, to revitalize the flag, to be loyal to their institutions, and to become "good Americans" as quickly as possible. We do not seem to pay so much attention to this work as Uncle Sam does. The angers that some people seem to fear we make naturalization easier will prove mere shadows without substance if we bend our energies and hope our political to the making of our newcoming friends into Canadians.

Many of the people of other races have come to Canada, come from lands where liberty lies crushed on the earth, where absolutism has reigned throughout centuries, sometimes to be replaced by a newer and worse form of tyranny. They cannot breathe the free air of Canada and live under our constitution without living freedom and becoming stalwarts in the cause of human liberty, decency and progress. Make them good Canadians and they will be good citizens, but treat them as interlopers, make them feel unwelcome, deny them the rights of manhood and womanhood, and they will be a liability instead of an asset to Canada. Our attitude should be to express in the old song, "Let 'em all come."

INDUSTRY SCATTERS

Instead of further concentrating in the larger cities, the present tendency if industrial plants is toward the smaller towns, according to a recent magazine writer who considers this one of the most far reaching movements in recent years. Some of the reasons for this decentralization of industry are given, among them bringing the factories closer to the raw materials and the ultimate consumer, thus reducing transportation charges; the extension of cheap electric service to the smaller cities and towns; lower living costs and better surroundings for employees; and in many cases a more intelligent and more dependable labor supply.
Summing up the results which this movement will bring about, the writer says that from now on we may expect to see a marked movement toward these smaller cities and towns.
Instead of having vast populations necessary for large production herded together in a few big cities. This trend of industry affords the small town its opportunity to share in the benefits of industrial payrolls. Besides, the industrial workers create a better market for farm products.
This industry and agriculture may go hand in hand in the upbuilding of these communities which take advantage of their opportunities in this direction.

TRAINING A DAUGHTER

Among the replies received in response to a request for a brief plan for training a daughter, a magazine received the following from a successful mother:

Teach your daughter to value a man, not by wealth, looks or family, but by his character and what he himself has done.
Discourage her in looking upon men as suitors until she is at least 18.
Give her an education and keep her employed part of the time during vacation.

Make her home pleasant, so that she will not be anxious to leave it for an inferior one.

Encourage her to attend church, Sunday school, club meetings and other places where the right kind of people may be met, urging her to be particularly careful in choosing her girl associates.

These are all excellent suggestions, even though they do not always secure the desired results, and the mother who follows them will have done about all that it is possible to do for her daughter.
